ORANGEBURG, S. C., OCT. 29, 1880.

Sharp Practices.

The recent successes of the Republicans in Indiana and Ohio have developed some sharp practices which it becomes the Democrats to consider and to meet them. Since counting the votes, it has been discovered that near twenty thousand negroes had been transported into Indiana and Ohio, and that in many counties there were more votes in the box than there were voters in the counties. In one county in Indiana the excess of votes over the number of male adults, over twenty-one years of age, was nearly five thousand.

By the recent telegrams, accidentally falling into the hands of Chairman Barnum, it has been discovered that the Republicans propose to overrun Florida, and, perhaps, other Southern States, with repeaters from Northern cities with the hope of securing the electoral vote for Garfield and Arthur. Such practice is common at the North among Republicans, as are all other frauds and low political schemes. They were introduced into South Carolina during the days of negro supremacy. Voters were transferred from one precinct to another to suit the emergency of the occasion, or were instructed to repeat at as many voting places as they could reach.

To prevent the Indiana frauds from being repeated there and in many other states and the importation of Northern repeaters to Southern States to carry the election by fraud, becomes the duty of the Democratic party on next Tuesday. What is true of States and counties is equally true of individual precincts, and watchfulness on the part of election managers may save the county. The opposition with which we have to deal is cunning, dishonest and will stoop to any rascalities that will serve their purposes best. In Orangeburg Boliver, Webster and Livingston lead it and their purpose is to carry the election "by fair means if they can, but if not, by some other other."

Our Work.

The last stage of the campaign is now reached. By mass meetings and public speaking the Democracy of Orangeburg have been aroused, the voters have been excited to the proper enthusiasm and the party under the admirable organization of Capt. S. Dibble stands a unit all over the county. This, however, will not carry the election or continue democratic rule in Orangeburg; and if nothing more be done, the race so auspiciously begun and successfully conducted to the present point, will end in a hopeless defeat on Tuesday. The remaining days are pregnant with great responsibilities and events to every democrat in the county and should be given up to quiet and determined individual effort. Much has yet to be done if every Democrat will go to work and do his full duty to his party, his country and his family. Let every sacrifice be made and with an indomitable courage let every man address himself to the task before him. Our people should realize the fact that votes must be carried other than those polled directly by Democrats. This, and nothing else, should be the work from now until six o'clock on next Tuesday evening. Votes we must have, and can only be had by earnest and persistent work on the part of every Democrat in the county. Let every man vote himself and determine to carry another with him, and the work is done—victory won and democratic rule perpetuated. This is not impossible, indeed nothing is, to a people determined to be free.

Our Congressman.

No man has ever been more true to the trust reposed in him than Mr. M. P. O'Connor in discharging his official duties as a member of the United States Congress. This is especially true with regard to his colored constituents and we are glad to see them taking steps to acknowledge this obligation to him in the Freedman's Saving Bank matter. Thousands of dollars of their hard earnings and savings have been stolen from them by the Republican party and, if they ever get their stolen money back, it will be through the untiring efforts of Mr. O'Connor. E. W. Mackey is a Republican and differs not a whit in moral character from the men who perpetrated the theft. This the colored voters of the Second Congressional District know and will so declare on next Tuesday at the polls.

Our white citizens cannot afford to allow Mr. O'Connor to be defeated, because their interests, so faithfully cared for by him, will, in that event, fall into the hands of Mackey, a man who places greater stress upon party affiliation and obligation than upon personal honor or the interest of his constituents. Therefore, whilst we rally around our State and County tickets let us not forget the Congressional candidate. Let victory be inscribed upon our banners all along the line.

The State Fair.

Our readers will bear in mind that the Twelfth Annual Fair of the State Agricultural and Mechanical Society will be held in the city of Columbia on November 9 to 12. All entries should be made to Secretary Holloway, at Columbia, either in person or by letter by the first of November with a view to have proper places assigned for articles, stalls for horses and cattle, pens for sheep, goats and swine, and coops for poultry. An entrance fee of $2 is required on all entries except in the household, needle and fancy and art departments exhibited by the ladies. In addition to the very liberal premium offered by the Society, the Board of Trade of Columbia will supplement the amount by a list of premiums of $300 to be paid in gold; subject, however, to the rules and regulations of the Society. Among the premiums thus offered we notice a premium of $10 each for the finest boy and girl baby under twelve months. We hope Orangeburg will compete successfully for the $20. The distinguished orator and statesman, Hon. D. W. Voorhees, United States Senator from Indiana, is to deliver the annual address.

The Meeting at Gleatons.

Editors Orangeburg Democrat: The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at a meeting of the Eastern Mill Democratic Club, held on the 23d instant.

Resolved, That we as law abiding and peaceful citizens hereby deprecate the recent difficulty in this county at Gleaton's precinct in which one Caesar Harrison was accidentally shot.

Resolved, That the Masses of the democratic party deplore the accident and hold themselves blameless for its occurrence, and that they will do all in their power to procure order throughout the County.

Resolved, That as a token of our sympathy in behalf of the said Caesar Harrison we take up a contribution from this club, and forward the amount to him as soon as practicable and recommend other democratic clubs throughout the County to do likewise.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the County papers.

On response to the third resolution a cash fund of ten dollars was raised instantly, and Mr. N. M. Salley Sr. appointed to take the amount to the wounded man. It is proper to state that only twenty members of the club were present, or no doubt, a larger amount would have been raised.

The cause of the difficulty which gave rise to the foregoing resolutions are these: A white man who had imbibed too freely of mean whiskey got engaged in a quarrel with a negro during the preliminary arrangements between the radicals and democratic leaders for a joint discussion at Gleaton's poll on the 23d instant. Who the aggressor was in the quarrel I do not know. The white man drew his pistol and presented it at the negro, who gave back in a defiant and threatening manner. Mr. Winfield Clark who was close by rushed upon the white man, seized him around the waist and endeavored to drag him out of the crowd, when both fell to the ground. It was during the struggle which followed that the pistol was discharged. Mr. Clark in his efforts to wrench the pistol from the man held his knuckles ground in the dust, when by some means the pistol was discharged, the ball taking effect in the thigh of Caesar Harrison, who had nothing to do with the fracas.

During the melee, and while Mr. Clark held his man, a burly mulatto, who afterwards gave his name to the writer as Jones, struck the man Mr. Clark held, several severe blows, beating the skin from his cheeks and inflicting an ugly contusion beneath one eye. The negro who struck these blows was the one who had quarreled with the white man. He perpetrated two falsehoods about the affair before he left the ground. No. 1, was that he struck the white man twice while he held the pistol presented at him, he struck him after he was seized by Mr. Clark. No. 2, was that the white man, after he got on the ground raised his arm several feet in a horizontal position and fired. The pistol was discharged while the knuckles of the man who held it were ground in the dust.

These facts can be established by Messrs Winfield Clark, G. Lawrence Salley, Alick S. Easterlin, and as many colored witnesses.

PAYSAN.

Fork of Edisto, Oct. 26, 1880.

A Card.

Editors Orangeburg Democrat: Being informed that my name has been placed upon the Republican ticket for School Commissioner, I desire to say that I am not a candidate, and will not accept the office if elected, and all persons voting for me will throw away their votes.

Respectfully,
HENRY L. RICKENBACKER.

HANCOCK, HAGOOD AND HONESTY.
